"Influences in my art have come from the physical world, and I endeavor to supplement this with the addition of fairy dust, imagination, luminosity- to make a bit of magic come to life on each canvas." ~ Lisa O'Connor

Meet Lisa!

My art explores the external and internal, the spiritual and physical, that surrounds us in our everyday lives. I am engrossed in the notion of beauty from colors, textures, and patterns.

I employ an array of patterns and symbolic circles layered to create unique forms in and of themselves. These shapes evoke a sense of illusion of space and movement alluding to a spiritual sense, a presence, beckoning the viewer to look closer and touch. I often abandon the paint brush and create marks with objects that inspire me. Thus, I hope my finished works celebrate the imperfect, impermanent, and incomplete.
